State Tourney Begins For Dixie Youth Baseball

The 1973 Dixie Youth Baseball Virginia State Tournament will be played on a brand new field in Franklin County beginning August 1st with eight teams from around the state vieing for the championship.

To the champ will go an even bigger prize - a trip to North Charleston, S.C. and a place in the Dixie Youth Baseball World series beginning on August 20th.

It will be the first time that the state tournament will be played in Franklin County, an area that has become a hot bed for Dixie Youth Baseball in Virginia.

Franklin County will be well represented in the tourney, too, because it will have two teams. Franklin Co. American will be the host league, thus qualifying for an automatic berth, but there will be a second local team because a district champion will come from Franklin County, also.

Franklin County, which has been the proving ground for the league program in the state comprises an entire district with those five leagues, and the champion will advance to the state playoffs.

Those two Franklin County entries and six other district champions will make up the field for the 10-day double elemination tournament.

The New Franklin County Field is located on U.S.Route 220 about five miles outh of Rocky Mount, and is the first facility to be located in what ultimately will be a major recreational complex for the county.

In addition to the field itself, there are acres of parking space, concession and comfort facilities, and seating for more than 2,000 persons.
